ARTIST STATEMENT

I have been fortunate throughout my life to experience both inner-city living and that of rural life on farms. The early exposure of nature and birdlife has influenced my connection to, and respect for, the natural world which is transferred into my expression through my art.

After completing various studies in fine art in the late 80's and majoring in printmaking and drawing, I began exhibiting with an interest in works on paper and dry-point etching and pianola drawings. My enthusiasm for working with scrolls is another avenue of expression and a wonderful union of music, poetry and fine art.

In 2008, I opened Lauriston Press, a drawing and prints Gallery in Kyneton VIC. We represent about 40 artists with a strong focus on printmaking.

While I continue to run and exhibit my work through my Central Victorian Gallery, I have formed strong relationships with regional and interstate galleries around Australia, exhibiting in both group and solo exhibitions. I have works in private collections within Australia and overseas.

I provide specialized workshops in drawing and printmaking. And over the years I have run community art projects with clients such as Peter Mac, The Royal Women's Hospital, Relationships Australia, various Councils and schools.

Recently, I have embarked on establishing a small gallery in Peshurst, (Western District) that focusses on exhibiting hand-picked beautiful works of art including drawing, etching and sculptural works.

I live on a farm in Central Victoria with a menagerie of animals, where I have my working studio.
